

Monday, January 19th 2026
10:00-11:30	Registration (Hall, Faculty of Arts)
11:00-11:30	Morning tea
11:30-13:30	Official Opening act (Aula Magna)
12:00-13:30	Opening talk (Aula Magna): Paul Boersma (University of Amsterdam): “How acquiring a bidirectional grammar restricts variation”
13:30-15:00	Lunch break
15:00-17:00	Room: Aula García Lorca Phonetic variation 1 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Perception 1 Chair.
15:00	Variability in the articulation of Mandarin rhotic vowels Song Jiang & Alexei Kochetov	Dialectal effects on the perception of Swedish vowel category boundaries Renata Kochančikaitė & Mikael Roll
15:30	Realization of /tʃ/ across Andalusia: Geographical distribution and acoustic properties Alfredo Herrero de Haro & Matthew Pollock	Perception of Spanish Intonation Contours of Declarative Sentences by Spanish Speakers of Different Varieties Izaro Bedialauneta Txurruka
16:00	Weakening of intervocalic /b/ and /v/ in conversational French: reduction or lenition? Suyuan Dong & Nicolas Audibert	How non-binary visual gender cues prime German sibilant perception Miriam Oschkinat, Melanie Weirich & Stefanie Jannedy
16:30-17:00	Afternoon tea
17:00-18:30	Room: Aula García Lorca Phonetic variation and technology Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Perception 2 Chair.
17:00	From Zurich to Valais: Phonetic Variation and its Impact on Forensic Automatic Speaker Recognition Sophie Möller, Radek Skarnitzl, Andrea Fröhlich, Gea de Jong-Lendle & Adrian Leemann	The Perception-Production Link of Taiwan Mandarin /s/ and /ʃ/ through Identification and Imitation Tasks Yung-Ning Jhuang

17:30	Phonetic variation in Andalusian Spanish: The first maps of the Interactive Linguistic Atlas of Andalusian Accents (ALIAA) Alfredo Herrero de Haro	Tonal Training and Cue Salience in Naïve Perception of Northern Vietnamese Tones Hồng Quang Châu, Ioana Chitoran & Hiyon Yoo
18:00	Redrawing the Map of Regionally Accented Standard Dutch: Fine-tuning Whisper for Inclusive ASR Golshid Shekoufandeh, Paul Boersma & Antal van den Bosch	Perception of flapped /t/ in British English: a generational shift? Eric Ferrari, Coline Caillol & Emmanuel Ferragne
19:00-20:30	Free Tour (registration needed): Where (Who)
20:30-21:30	Welcome Drinks at Carmen de la Victoria Address: Carretera del Chapiz, 9, 18010 Granada

Tuesday, January 20th 2026
9:30-10:30	Keynote (Aula Magna): Ghada Khattab (Newcastle University): “”
10:30-11:00	Morning tea
11:00-13:30	Room: Aula García Lorca Phonetic variation 2 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Liquid consonants Chair.
11:00	Hiatus resolution in sequences of identical vowels in Russian Yury Makarov & Sofia Sedunova	Andalusian liquids and VOX: An analysis of lateral and rhotic variation in the political speech of southern Spain Matthew Pollock
11:30	Beyond interdentalization: Coda /k/ realizations in Basque Spanish Carolina González & Gabrielle Isgar	The liquids are flowing: intervocalic laterals in Cibaeano Dominican Spanish Erik W. Willis

12:00	Aspirated stops in Andalusian Spanish: a pan-Andalusian perspective Paul O'Neill	Pennsylvania Dutch liquids: phonetic correlates of the sonority hierarchy Rose Fisher, Erin Noelliste & David Bolter
12:30	Phonetic outcomes of contrast preservation in Andalusian Spanish: Focus on /s/ + voiced stop sequences Kaitlyn Sabb & Nicholas Henriksen	The 'evanescent /l/' in Venetan: a preliminary EMA study Angelo Dian & Francesco Burrone
13:00	Exploring Phonetic Variation in Italian Poetic Speech: Intonation, Prosodic Features and Voice Quality Federico Lo Iacono & Valentina Colonna	Resistance to positional variability in Serbian laterals Alexei Kochetov
13:30-15:00	Lunch break
15:00-17:00	Room: Aula García Lorca Sociophonetics 1 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Phonetic variation 3 Chair.
15:00	Muy de Granada [´ mu ðe ɣra´ na / ´ muj ðe ɣra´ naða]. A case of multifaceted phonetic variation Antonio Manjón-Cabeza & Rocío Cruz Ortiz	The Role of Phonetic Constraints on Historical Tapped /r/ in RP Delia Belando
15:30	Creaky voice across apparent time in German: Insights from the Plapper corpus Joshua Penney, Melanie Weirich & Stefanie Jannedy	Regional phonetic variation: analysis of Murcian /-s/ Ana Bravo & Gemma Meseguer
16:00	Pronunciation of syllable- and word-final /s/ in Venezuelan Spanish: regional and sociodemographic patterns of variation Verena Weiland	Eastern Andalusian Spanish laxing and harmony: The effects of -r/-s deletion in words with final stress Maialen Casquete de la Puente
16:30	Sociophonetics beyond the word: building connected speech processes into accounts of variation and change Gerard Docherty & Paul Foulkes	Implosive consonants productions in the speech of Córdoba (Spain). Early results of a phonetic analysis Maria De Luca
17:00-17:30	Afternoon tea
17:30-19:30	Room: Aula García Lorca: Phonetic variation 4 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Sociophonetics 2 Chair.

17:30	An acoustic analysis of implosives in Khmer Nielson Sophann Hul	The Social Significance is in a State of Constant Change: Language Attitudes and the New Interpretation of the [ts] Allophone in Malaga Andalusian Spanish Pablo Pérez Molina
18:00	Influence of Velars and Uvulars on Vowel Context in Four Typologically Unrelated Languages Ekaterina Shepel & Jalal Al-Tamimi	Sociophonetic Variation and Adaptation in Malayalam: Language Contact between Malayalam, Hindi, and Bengali in Kerala Anupama. T
18:30	Variable realization of ejectives in isolated vs connected speech in Northern Lushootseed Ted Kye	Tracing Sociolinguistic Change among Women in Málaga: Indexical Meaning and the Andalusian Phonetic System Matilde Vida Castro & María Cruces Rodríguez
19:00	Correlations of acoustic properties of ejective stops in Q'anjob'al Maida Percival	Real-time variation in creaky voice prevalence in Australian English Hannah White, Joshua Penney & Felicity Cox
20:30-23:30	Conference dinner at Hospes Palacio de los Patos Address: C. Solarillo de Gracia, 1, 18002 Granada

Wednesday, January 21st 2026
10:00-11:30	Room: Aula García Lorca Sociophonetics 3 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Phonetic variation 5 Chair.
10:00	Phonetic Correlates of Voices in Gendered Product Advertising Inke Henneberger & Melanie Weirich
10:30	Retroflexion and Resistance: A Sociophonetic Study of Identity, Register, and Accent Ideology in Malayalam-English Bilingual Speech Anupama T & Ashima Saseendran	Historical and dialectological variation of palatal phonemes in Extremaduran Spanish Javier Escamilla & Ander Egurtzegi

11:00	Social Meaning and Local Identity in the Use of Dh-Stopping in South Yorkshire English Bartolomé Díaz Martínez	Do You Hear What They Hear? Approximants, Fricatives, and Dialectal Bias in Spanish Stop Perception Santiago Arróniz
11:30-12:00	Morning tea
12:00-13:30	Room: Aula García Lorca L2 acquisition 1 Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo Phonetic variation in historical texts Chair.
12:00	Vowels and Consonants in Contact: A Comparative Study of the Spanish Spoken by Natives Speakers and the Spanish of Polish Residents in Granada Edyta Waluch de la Torre & Marcin Sosinski	The reception of Spanish vowels in English and French through Hispanisms Estrella Ramírez Quesada
12:30	The realization of /b d g/ by Czech learners of Spanish Radek Skarnitzl & Petr Čermák	A Contribution to the Historiography of Spanish Diachronic Phonetics: Henri Gavel's 1920 Essay on the Evolution of the Pronunciation of Castilian from the 14th Century According to the Theories of Grammarians and Other Sources Daniel M. Sáez Rivera
13:00	Using lip tracking to disentangle gradient articulatory changes from segmental deletion in American English Karolina Broś & Peter A. Krause	Reconstructing Southern Spanish through the verses of Diego Hurtado de Mendoza Laura Crespo Quesada
13:30-15:00	Lunch break
15:00-17:00	Room: Aula García Lorca: Prosodic variation Chair.	Room: Aula Ana Pardo: L2 acquisition 2 Chair.
15:00	Prosodic variation as a function of planning scope: Evidence from individual differences Jason Bishop & Mei-Ying Ki	Clipping of English /i:/ triggered by /p, t, k/ codas in the speech of Polish learners of English Michał Baran
15:30	Segmental vs. Suprasegmental Glottalization in a Jin Chinese Dialect: Phonetic Pathways of Tone and Phonation Xiaoqing Du	Prosodic Variation in the Context of a Public Speaking University Course in English Raúl Jiménez Vilches

16:00	Whistled Gascon Occitan: Linguistic Encoding and Cognitive Insights from a Formant-Based Acoustic Modality Michela Russo & Alexandre Di Caro	Implementation of PRAAT in teaching of “Phonetics and Phonology of Spanish” of the Degree in Hispanic Philology: Learning variation from the first year of university María Heredia Mantis
16:30		The Role of Teacher Input Variability in L2 English Vowel Acquisition: A longitudinal study Alejandra Pesantez & Karolina Broś
17:00-17:30	Afternoon tea
17:30-18:30	Closing lecture (Aula Magna): Daniel Recasens (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona): “From experimental phonetics to sound change: vocalization and deletion of syllable-final dark /l/ in Middle English and Early Romance”
18:30-19:00	Closing ceremony	